

I

PREFACE

This teaching resource -Social Work in Specific Case, SO 1060 was collected under the framework of the revised curriculum B.E. 2554- Bachelor of Social Work Program in Social Work, Mahamakut Buddhist University for undergraduate students joining in Social Work Program.

This work, the first paper written in English language for undergraduate students joining this program is composed of 7 units which are ordered systematically in order to ease the study for students and ones who are interested in this field. It may not teach the students to write correct English, but at least it helps them to understand the language.

I am grateful to all scholars such as Banerjee G.R., Bernstein, S., Bessie, Kent for their learned materials towards this work. I also wish to thank all my teachers who educated me about Social Work in Specific Case.

In addition, with unclear issue occurring from reading this work because of the mistakes exactly stemming from collecting, the students or ones should compare them with other resources. From the bottom of my heart, I sincerely apologize to all for my carelessness and I will correct them in the next coming issue.

The merit occurring from collecting this work is offered to my great parents, Buddhist preceptor (Upachaya) and teachers, but bad karma occurring from collecting this work is humbly received by myself.

May the Triple Gem bless you with good health and prosperity forever.

Woratep Waingkae

October, B.E.2555